Getting ready to go on vacation

It is the last term of school year and the students are ready to go on vacation. All the students work very hard at school in order not to fail the final examinations. Students know that if they fail the tests, they will have the same tests the beginning of school in September. That will give them a very hard time during the summer vacation.

Most of the students have already planned their vacation. Some of them will go to the states, whereas some of them will go to the countryside to breathe fresh air. Some of them realize it will be a better opportunity to learn, they decide then to go to a professional school during the vacation. Unfortunately some of them plan nothing to do for the vacation.

At last, people realize that the summer vacation is the best opportunity to reach a goal that you have had in mind for years.

Shopping in America

In America, just as in England, you see the same shops with the same boards and windows in every town and village.

Shopping, however, is an art of its own and you have to learn slowly where to buy various things. If you are hungry, go to the chemist's. A chemist's shop is called a drugstore in the United States; it is a national institution and a very good institution, at that, in the larger drugstores you may be able to get drugs too, but their main business consists in selling pencils, candy, toys, braces, belts, furniture and imitation jewelry. Every drugstore has a food center with high stools in front of it and there they serve various juices, coffee, sundaes, ice cream, sandwiches, omelettes and other egg dishes.

If you want cigarettes, go to the grocer's; if you want to have your shoes cleaned, go to the barber's; if you want a radio, go to a man's shop; if you want a suitcase, go to the chemist's.

Whatever you buy, it may be changed later for something in the same shop. This is a great pastime with the American. It is not unusual at all to see a lady bringing back a hat with a lot of fruit on it and exchange it either for real fruit or a real hat.

You do not need to plan your shopping very carefully because you will find some shops stay open in New York all night.

Students don't think anymore

In the past, an elementary student didn't need a calculator to do his exercises of Math. He would do all mentally. Now things have changed. Therefore, an elementary student in his last year before middle school may not know his multiplication table. All they have to do now is to use their cell phone calculator for any operation. Now it's worse. They can't even remember a friend's phone number. When they have to call a friend, they just press on a key and the number comes up. For their literary homework, a dictionary isn't important anymore, where they could find, not only the meaning of the word, but its etymology. They just write the word on their cell phone and the correct spelling appears. But the worst is, they don't worry about good word spelling anymore, for the chatting habit doesn't require any respect of rules.

Internet

The internet (or the Net) is the name for the system that links computers all over the world. To use the net all you need is a personal computer (P.C) a phone, a modem to connect the P.C to the telephone line, and a subscription to your local server.

As soon as you are connected, you can send and receive messages by e-mail, make new friends and get information on every subject you can imagine from countless sites on the World Wide Web. (www), the name for the electronic site with over 20 million electronic pages of text, pictures and graphics.

Try surfing the net: it is like using an encyclopedia index, but it's much more fun! First of all, look up the subject that interests you. You will get a list of the helpful web sites, the different "places" you can go to. Each site has an electronic address, called link. Click on the link with your mouse and in a few seconds you will be connected to the site you have chosen.

In a few years' time, millions of people will be linked to internet. We will be able, for example, to watch any television program or video whenever we like, and listen to all the songs that have ever been recorded.

Teenage driving

Elena, you just ran a red light! Brad shouted from the back seat of the car. "Did I? Sorry! I didn't even see the red light". A few minutes later, Elena saw a stop sign after she ran it. She was driving over the speed limit. When they go to Megan's house, Elena called her mother. "Mom, we're at Megan's house. Everything is ok. I drove safely".

Teenage driving is sometimes a problem. In the United States, more teenagers die from accidents than from any other cause. There is a higher risk of accidents with 16 year old drivers than with 17 – an – 18 year – old drivers. Also, when teens drive with other people in the car, they have accidents more often than when they're driving alone.

Thinking about clothes

There are four main reasons for wearing clothes. The first reason is to cover our bodies. Then why do people usually cover most of their bodies? People of different times and places have different ideas right and wrong clothes and about how much of the body to cover. In parts of India and North Africa, women cover their faces. People in Europe and North America wouldn't show any parts of their legs. The next reason for wearing clothes is protection. Clothes protect us from heat and cold. Heavy clothes and sturdy boots protect people who work outside from mosquitos, sharp branches, stones and wild animals. The last and probably the most important reason for wearing clothes is "vanity" People want to look good. But they want to look different from everybody else.

Rainbow

A rainbow is an arch of colors in the sky. This curved shape is formed when the sun shines after a rainstorm. You can see a rainbow only at certain times. To observe it, you need to have the sun behind you. The rain must be in front of you.

A rainbow is spectacular sight. It makes people stare in wonder. A rainbow has six colors: violet, blue, green, yellow, orange and red. These colors are also present in sunlight. But they are very vivid in a rainbow. They appear brighter than usual.

A rainbow forms because of what happens when light shines on water. The sun shines on a raindrop. The water reflects the light, or sends it back. The light is broken up into separate colors.

The importance of salt

We use salt every day and we rarely think about it. We would miss very much, however, if we did not have it. Our food would be tasteless and uninteresting. Our body would miss the substance, iodine, provide by it. Salt has been important to mankind since the beginning of the years. It was an important article of trade. Salt was so valuable that it was used as money. Roman soldiers received part of their pay in salt. This part of their pay was called salarium. From this, we got our word salary. Three years ago, I made a terrible discovery. My son was taking drugs. He became to behave strangely. He talked a lot but didn't make sense, then got angry and shouted at all of us. One day, he began to take off all his clothes. He told me he heard voices "they say clothes are unnecessary". He told me if we don't wear clothes, we will be able to fly. I thought he was going mad.
 I told him he needed help. At first he wouldn't listen to me. He became very sick. He couldn't eat and drink. He was getting thinner and thinner every day. Then one of his friends died from an overdose of drugs. The last doctor said to my son. "If you don't give up the drugs you will die too". At last my son agreed to have treatment. It was hard and I could hardly bear to see him suffering but he succeeded. Today he is still alive and he can tell you how bad drugs are.

TEXTE 1

Things have changed

My grandmother complains about how things have changed, and she says that life used to be better. Families aren't families the way they used to be. Everyone's divorced. If a husband and his wife are having problems with their marriage, they don't stay together anymore. And mothers used to stay home and take care of their children, but not anymore. Everyone's working. No one has time for children anymore. And the cars! No one walks anymore; everybody drives. We used to walk five miles to school every day, even under the rain. And, in the school, the children don't have to think anymore. In math class, for example, we used to add, subtract, multiply and divide using our heads. Kids don't use their heads anymore; they use calculators.

Computers have taken control over our lives also ... People don't seat around a tree at night to tell stories anymore. They prefer watching T.V ...
 Life used to be simple, but it isn't anymore.
